3. Training Title The Nature of Nurturing: 2 day introduction
4. Training Description Participants learn and apply principles for strengthening the parent-child relationship by developing the best possible relationship with families. Based on a nurturing staff – parent relationship, home visiting staff learns to share observations and use inquiry to draw parents’ attention to the relationship by focusing on what works best for the child (i.e. focusing on strengths). Participants are exposed to techniques for sharing their observations and asking questions non-judgmentally. Participants learn how a nurturing parent-child relationship can protect a child from risk. They learn the principles of how to develop nurturing, supportive relationships at every level of program operation (parallel process).
